Kansas Sunflowers Wilt.

The Horton aggregation tried playing ball but when they came upon the real article they hollered for ice gallore. The Colts ran in four marks that count in the inning. By an overthrow and error the Sunflower boys secured four of the same kind in the second inning. The way Ruegge slammed that sphere over the plate was vicious and put the visitors to the stakes. Foster put a two bagger affair in the third which was followed by Poteet with his special play a home run. During the last six innings neither side even staggered towards home. By innings.
